CITY'S BONDED
DEBT $58,000Many Municipalities Hunt
For Operating Revenue,
Survey Discloses

Many Ohio cities today are panting along just ahead of the hounds of bankruptcy.

Salem, however, is in comparative good financial shape, despite the fact that the city fathers, like most other municipal officials, are bemoaning the shortage of operating funds.

This city requires approximately $145,000 from tax income to operate through 1946 and from all indications, City Auditor Carl Webster says, the city will not incur a deficit unless unforeseen circumstances dig into the general funds.

The funds available, however, are so limited that little except absolute "musts" can be accomplished.

Retire $20,000 This Year

On bonded indebtedness Salem probably has a better standing than any other city in Ohio. This year about $20,000 of the debt will be retired, Webster reports, bringing the debt down to $58,000 by the end of the year.

Salem has been retiring its bonded debt with similar consistency since about 15 years ago and now is probably one of the most financially sound cities in Ohio.

Dangling from their civic ankles are leg chains limiting the real estate taxes cities may collect and riding their backs are the soaring costs of providing governmental services.

Every now and then, one of them tries sprinting with some new revenue source—like the recently discredited municipal consumers' utilities tax or the still-alive city payroll and income tax—but that is another story, as is the predictable future as seen by the experts.

The Ohio Picture

Just what is the Ohio municipal finance picture?

An Associated Press survey disclosed that of 19 cities, eight face operating deficits in 1946, as follows:

Dayton $25,096.42; Cincinnati $2,146,536; Cleveland $500,000; Lancaster $1,151.76; Portsmouth $25,972.05; Zanesville $76,082.75; Youngstown $354,770; and Toledo $179,219.

In addition, Canton is breaking even because of a balance of $117,790 at the beginning of the year.

The Cincinnati deficit, also, will be cared for by the unexpected general funds, but the wise fathers of the Ohio river metropolis estimates that the last of the unexpected money will be absorbed in 1947, leaving a deficit of $1,747,043 for which there is no handy cushion.

There are other cities, of course, not listed here, which are wearing out the bottom of their civic pockets scratching for money. Take Steubenville.

"It is high time that all of us look the facts squarely in the face and recognize that our city simply cannot go forward until means of providing adequate finances for our many needs are found," Mayor

9 Persons Hurt In Weekend
Traffic; Train Strikes Car

Nine persons suffered injuries in traffic mishaps over the weekend, six of them being injured in an auto-train collision in Leetonia at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Injured include: Carolyn Lovejoy, 5, of Columbiana, lacerations and bruises.

Everett Lee Lovejoy, 2, of Columbiana, lacerations and bruises.

Betty Rousher, 12, of Salem, lacerations and bruises.

George Marchbanks, 27, of R. D. 1, Hanoverton, lacerated right ear and right knee.

Vince Dolan, 48, of Warren, lacerations and bruises.

Linden J. Bowman, 18, of R. D. 4, Salem, lacerations of the face and a bruised chest.

The Columbus family and the Rousher girl were injured at the Grafton st. crossing in Leetonia when an east-bound Pennsylvania freight train struck their car, which Everett Lovejoy, 33, was driving.

Marshal Henry Gibson of Leetonia said Lovejoy evidently failed to see the train and pulled directly into its path. The car was demolished but the somewhat slow speed of the train accounted for the minor injuries received by the passengers.

All were brought to Salem City hospital where their conditions today are reported improved. Everett Lee Lovejoy was released from the hospital late yesterday.

Upsets On Curve

Marchbanks was injured when he lost control of his car on Route 30, a mile south of Lisbon, at 8 a. m. Sunday. He told state highway patrolmen he failed to negotiate a curve and his car rolled over. He was treated by a Lisbon physician.

Dolan suffered minor injuries when cars operated by Leroy K. Nuf, 40, also of Warren, and Walter Wagner, 58, of Canton, collided at the intersection of Route 46 and 165 at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, patrolmen said. Dolan was a passenger in Nuf's car.

Bowman, driving on Route 45, just north of Salem at 2:40 p. m. Saturday, was injured when a tire blew out on his car and it swerved off the road, striking a small culvert. He was treated at Salem Clinic.

Ohio Polio
Epidemic
Feared

COLUMBUS, Aug. 5.—State Health Director Roger Heering said today that it appeared Ohio was in "an epidemic year" of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), and cautioned parents to watch their children carefully.

The number of polio cases reported for the year throughout the state rose Saturday to 154, compared with 143 for the same day in 1944, the record year for the disease.

The total is 64 more than the 1945 figure for the same day.

"It looks as if we are in another epidemic year in Ohio," Dr. Heering said. "Certainly it is in other areas."

"Parents ought to watch their children carefully and seek doctor's advice if the slightest unusual thing develops."

Avoid Crowds, Warning

The health director advocated that Ohio parents keep their children out of crowds and make sure they get plenty of rest and do not over-exercise.

Traveling Ohioans should be certain of the sources of their food, water and milk, he added.

The state department of health, other than warning citizens of the danger, can take no preventive steps, Dr. Heering said, adding: "There are no control measures to take at the present stage of our knowledge."

He pointed out that early symptoms of poliomyelitis were "not characteristic" and might simulate influenza or gastro-intestinal disorders.

More than 1,000 cases of polio were reported to the department during August and September of 1944. The health director said the usual peak is in September and that "we are following the same pattern this year as in 1944."

The 1944 total was 1,172 cases, of which 51 proved fatal.

Body of Divorcee Found
In Cistern; Probe Begun

ASHLAND, Aug. 5.—Coroner A. D. Lewis said today he would delay indefinitely his report in the death of Mrs. Kate Semler, 48-year-old divorcee whose body was found in a cistern at her home. In order to permit a police investigation of the circumstances.

Dr. Lewis said he had not determined whether Mrs. Semler died by violence at the hands of others, or had committed suicide.

He expressed belief the woman had bled to death in the bath room of her home, from a dozen slashes on her neck, wrists and elbows.

When the body was found, Mrs. Semler's head was above the surface of about four feet of water in the cistern, he said, and an autopsy showed there was no water in her lungs.

Seismograph

(By Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—A radio message from Ciudad Trujillo reported that a fresh tremor shook the Dominican republic at 9:20 a. m. today in the wake of yesterday's violent earthquake in the Caribbean area.

Pan American Airways in Miami said a message from its Ciudad Trujillo airport described the tremor as being "of slight intensity." No further details were given.

Available reports indicated that yesterday's series of quakes apparently centered in the deepest hole in the Atlantic ocean and was so intense that it knocked out a recording seismograph in St. Louis, more than 2,000 miles away, but caused little surface damage.

One report said five tremors hit Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Dominican republic, yesterday, with one of the tremors lasting 45 seconds.

No Tidal Wave

Reports of a tidal wave lacked any confirmation here.

Dr. Marion Gilmore of the Army and Navy's hurricane service in Miami said the heart of the quake was either north or south of Puerto Rico or quite possibly in the Milwaukee depth, 30,246 feet below sea level and 50 miles off the northeast coast of Santa Domingo.

(The United States Coast and Geodetic survey lists the Milwaukee depth as the deepest point in the Atlantic ocean.)

Dr. Gilmore said that if the earthquake centered under the sea, a tidal wave would possibly result.

The shock was so severe that it put out of commission seismographs at the U. S. naval station in Puerto Rico at 1:49 p. m., at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, at 1:53-30 p. m., and in Trinidad at 1:53-46 p. m.

Walks Shock

Pan American Airways' installation at San Juan reported that the shock could be felt for three minutes while the walk shock. A brief power failure occurred in San Juan.

Capt. G. J. Brakesman of Miami, a Pan American pilot who left San Juan shortly after the shock was recorded, said he was driving over a bumpy road to the airport at the time and missed the shock entirely.

He said that when he arrived at the field he found the terminal building had been shaken.

The earthquake was described by a physicist in Cincinnati as "catastrophic." It was recorded as "major" and "very severe" by seismographs in Weston, Mass.; New York; Washington; St. Louis; Cincinnati and Pasadena, Calif.

Effect At Once

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Cotton clothing price increases of six to eight percent and a 17 percent boost in the cost of household linens were forecast by OPA today as it ordered higher textile ceilings into effect immediately.

The increase for cotton textiles required under the new price control law, averages about 16 percent, OPA said.

The OPA added that this will boost the industry's returns by about $500,000,000 a year.

The 17 percent retail increase expected on household linens also will apply on cotton piece goods.

Retail Prices To Be Set

OPA plans to make higher retail ceilings effective soon.

The price hike at the mill level results principally from requirements that OPA base textile ceilings on:

1. The market price of raw cotton, rather than the parity price.

2. Prices of 1939-41, rather than those of 1936-39 as heretofore.

The average of 32.78 cents a pound was adjusted to the price for grades and staples of cotton used in each major item and for delivery to mills.

Since last March 8 OPA had been using 25.75 cents as the basis for cotton costs in computing textile ceilings.

(By Associated Press)

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5.—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, administrator of veterans affairs, said today that "unless preventive action is taken in On-The-Job training by both state and federal governments, there is danger that a national scandal may be in the making involving millions in federal funds."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the 48th annual convention of the United Spanish War Veterans, Gen. Bradley declared:

Ponder Objectives

"The veterans administration has reached the point where it must reconsider the objectives of its program."

"Even without recent reports on job-placement training, it is apparent that something is wrong. Something is wrong when an on-the-job trainee can collect a $400 monthly wage in addition to subsistence—while a college student with wife and child must forfeit his $90 a month to take a full-time job for family support. Something is wrong when it takes three years to learn to become a stock clerk in one state and three months in another. Something is wrong when a training establishment lowers the beginning wage of its trainees by an amount equal to their subsistence allowance."

"Both these dangers—the dishonest employer and the unthinking veteran—have already infected the program of many states."

State highway patrol arrests over the weekend resulted in four fines in district courts.

Ralph Hoon, 22, of Youngstown, drew a fine of $100 and costs from Mayor Dickson on a speeding charge. Dickson said it was second similar offense within a month for Hoon.

Ira Fish, 50, of Harrisville, Pa., was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Dickson on a charge of speeding.

CITY'S BONDED DEBT $58,000

Many Municipalities Hunt For Operating Revenue, Survey Discloses

Many Ohio cities today are panting along just ahead of the hounds of bankruptcy.

Salem, however, is in comparative good financial shape, despite the fact that the city fathers, like most other municipal officials, are bemoaning the shortage of operating funds.

This city requires approximately $145,000 from tax income to operate through 1946 and from all indications, City Auditor Carl Webster says, the city will not incur a deficit unless unforeseen circumstances dig into the general funds.

The funds available, however, are so limited that little except absolute "musts" can be accomplished.

Retire $20,000 This Year

On bonded indebtedness Salem probably has a better standing than any other city in Ohio. This year about $20,000 of the debt will be retired, Webster reports, bringing the debt down to $58,000 by the end of the year.

Salem has been retiring its bonded debt with similar consistency since about 15 years ago and now is probably one of the most financially sound cities in Ohio.

Dangling from their civic ankles are leg chains limiting the real estate taxes cities may collect and riding their backs are the soaring costs of providing governmental services.

Every now and then, one of them tries sprinting with some new revenue source—like the recently discredited municipal consumers' utilities tax or the still-alive city payroll and income tax—but that is another story, as is the predictable future as seen by the experts.

The Ohio Picture

Just what is the Ohio municipal finance picture?

An Associated Press survey disclosed that of 19 cities, eight face operating deficits in 1946, as follows:

Dayton $25,096.42; Cincinnati $2,146,536; Cleveland $500,000; Lancaster $13,151.76; Portsmouth $25,972.05; Zanesville $76,082.75; Youngstown $354,770; and Toledo $1,799,219.

In addition, Canton is breaking even because of a balance of $117,790 at the beginning of the year.

The Cincinnati deficit, also, will be covered by the unexpected general funds, but the wise fathers of the Ohio river metropolis estimates that the last of the unexpected money will be absorbed in 1947, leaving a deficit of $1,747,043 for which there is no handy cushion.

There are other cities, of course, not listed here, which are wearing out the bottom of their civic pockets scratching for money. Take Steubenville:

"It is high time that all of us look the facts squarely in the face and recognize that our city simply cannot go forward until means of providing adequate finances for our many needs are found," Mayor Turn to BONDED DEBT, Page 8

Four or five other ships, crammed with 5,000 more illegal Jewish immigrants, were reported heading for Haifa.

Ohio Polio Epidemic Feared

COLUMBUS, Aug. 5.—State Health Director Roger Heering said today that it appeared Ohio was in "an epidemic year" of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), and cautioned parents to watch their children carefully.

The number of polio cases reported for the year throughout the state rose Saturday to 154, compared with 143 for the same day in 1944, the record year for the disease.

The total is 64 more than the 1945 figure for the same day.

"It looks as if we are in another epidemic year in Ohio," Dr. Heering said. "Certainly it is in other areas."

"Parents ought to watch their children carefully and seek doctor's advice if the slightest unusual thing develops."

Avoid Crowds, Warning

The health director advocated that Ohio parents keep their children out of crowds and make sure they get plenty of rest and do not over-exercise.

Traveling Ohioans should be certain of the sources of their food, water and milk, he added.

The state department of health, other than warning citizens of the danger, can take no preventive steps, Dr. Heering said, adding: "There are no control measures to take at the present stage of our knowledge."

He pointed out that early symptoms of poliomyelitis were "not characteristic" and might simulate influenza or gastro-intestinal disorders.

More than 1,000 cases of polio were reported to the department during August and September of 1944. The health director said the usual peak is in September and that "we are following the same pattern this year as in 1944."

The 1944 total was 1,172 cases, of which 51 proved fatal.

Body of Divorcee Found In Cistern; Probe Begun

ASHLAND, Aug. 5.—Coroner A. D. Lewis said today he would delay indefinitely his report in the death of Mrs. Kate Semler, 48-year-old divorcee whose body was found in a cistern at her home, in order to permit a police investigation of the circumstances.

Dr. Lewis said he had not determined whether Mrs. Semler died by violence at the hands of others, or had committed suicide.

He expressed belief the woman had bled to death in the bath room of her home, from a dozen slashes on her neck, wrists and elbows.

When the body was found, Mrs. Semler's head was above the surface of about four feet of water in the cistern, he said, and an autopsy showed there was no water in her lungs.

TIDAL WAVE FEARS PROVE GROUNDFLESS

Tremor, Deep In Atlantic, Knocks Out St. Louis Seismograph

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—A radio message from Ciudad Trujillo reported that a fresh tremor shook the Dominican republic at 9:20 a. m. today in the wake of yesterday's violent earthquake in the Caribbean area.

Pan American Airways in Miami said a message from its Ciudad Trujillo airport described the tremor as being "of slight intensity." No further details were given.

Available reports indicated that yesterday's series of quakes apparently centered in the deepest hole in the Atlantic ocean and was so intense that it knocked out a recording seismograph in St. Louis, more than 2,000 miles away, but caused little surface damage.

One report said five tremors hit Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Dominican republic, yesterday, with one of the tremors lasting 45 seconds.

No Tidal Wave

Reports of a tidal wave lacked any confirmation here.

Dr. Marion Gilmore of the Army and Navy's hurricane service in Miami said the heart of the quake was either north or south of Puerto Rico or quite possibly in the Milwaukee depth, 30,246 feet below sea level and 50 miles off the northeast coast of Santo Domingo.

(The United States Coast and Geodetic survey lists the Milwaukee depth as the deepest point in the Atlantic ocean.)

Dr. Gilmore said that if the earthquake centered under the sea, a tidal wave would possibly result.

The shock was so severe that it put out of commission seismographs at the U. S. naval station in Puerto Rico at 1:49 p. m., at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, at 1:53-30 p. m., and in Trinidad at 1:53-46 p. m.

Walk Shook

Pan American Airways' installation at San Juan reported that the shock could be felt for three minutes while the walls shook. A brief power failure occurred in San Juan.

Capt. G. J. Brakesman of Miami, a Pan American pilot who left San Juan shortly after the shock was recorded, said he was driving over a bumpy road to the airport at the time and missed the shock entirely.

He said that when he arrived at the field he found the terminal building had been shaken.

The earthquake was described by a physicist in Cincinnati as "catastrophic." It was recorded as "major" and "very severe" by seismographs in Weston, Mass.; New York; Washington; St. Louis; Cincinnati and Pasadena, Calif.

Terminal Pay Handout

The government is going to distribute at least three billion dollars among enlisted men who didn't get to draw terminal pay when discharged from military service. Officers already had drawn it.

This discrimination made every enlisted man boil and feel sick inside over the caste system that threatened to make a mockery of the civilian army principle in World War II. It also made an ideal talking point for congressmen who wanted to get on the good side of their newest war veteran constituents before election day. The congressmen had the privilege of seeming to right a wrong by voting to give enlisted men what officers already had obtained. There wasn't a chance to stop the terminal pay handout this year; it was saved, may even have been rigged, to cage votes.

But not all the beneficiaries are willing to trade votes for a handout. Some of them are thinking more of the squandering of public funds than of their own pockets. Some are thinking, moreover, that two wrongs do not make a right. If the terminal pay handout to officers had not occurred, enlisted men would have had no complaint. In that event, Congress would have had no chance to cage votes with public money. In that event, the government wouldn't be committed to pump more billions of cheapened currency into the inflation balloon, and the public wouldn't be committed to pay off a three billion dollar net addition to the national deficit. The principle involved in the handout was widely ignored, which is what happens to principles under the rule of git-while-the-gittin's good.

Doubtful Lawmaking

The close of legislative sessions in the United States is something we do badly. What happens in Washington on these occasions may not be quite as shocking as what happens in state legislatures, but it isn't much better.

Closing rushes which destroy the deliberation that is the saving grace of government by law are doubtful lawmaking and terrible dramas. The latter aspect is too important to be slighted. Congress retains the people's confidence to the extent that it satisfies their requirements for its collective behavior. The surest way to destroy representative democracy, as its enemies well know, is to destroy the atmosphere of dignity that enables it to exercise authority.

The atmosphere of the last few hours of a legislative session—even the last few weeks—is anything but dignified. It is as if the play had been written with a weak closing scene, because the playwright could think of no way to wind up his plot. The audience goes away, remembering not what was good, but engrossed in discussion of what was bad.

Perhaps Senator LaFollette, who is full of good ideas about improving the legislative branch and thereby strengthening freedom, might consider the addition of a first-rate playwright to the congressional staff, to bring legislative sessions to a clean-cut climax.

You Can Bet On It

Washington watchers are reporting that the next major effect of the Truman administration to raise a political talking point will be a campaign to continue wartime taxation rates.

The argument will be that high tax rates are essential, to hold down inflation. There will be a great deal of talk about balancing the budget and paying off some of the national debt.

The rebuttal which will be thrown at those who say wartime taxation is too high for peacetime will be, of course, that this point of view reflects the narrow selfishness of persons greedy for money.

There will be in the national course of events a revival of the New Deal rallying cries about princes of privilege, bourbons and so on. This is a preshrunk, tried-and-true political formula.

Under the cover of the diversion thus created, the test of the administration's sincerity will be its willingness to accompany wartime tax rates with wholesale slashing of its own expenditures, particularly expenditures caused by padding the public payroll.

Unless government's wartime overhead is slashed, the only possible effect of continuing wartime tax rates would be to stimulate inflation. Tax income, instead of being applied to reduction of the national debt, would be used up for salaries to non-productive government jobholders. You can bet on it.

The fact is, the federal bureaucracy is continuing its steady growth. We are appreciably closer to the New Deal goal of getting enough grateful jobholders on the public payroll to swing elections to the party in power. Only one wartime agency has been dissolved—the Office of Censorship. The way the wind is blowing was demonstrated when thousands of OPA employees hung on to their non-existent jobs during July, confident that the jobs would be voted back into existence, as they finally were—with a raise handed out to the hangers-on to reward their tenacity.

Honest Differences of Opinion

Senate approval in the closing hours of the 79th Congress of the optional clause of the World Court statute marked one of the most important decisions during the session. There were only two dissenting votes to this proposal that the United States should submit to the World Court and accept its decisions on disputes with other nations accepting the same obligation.

The Senate's overwhelming vote confirms the abandonment of isolation as a congressional standard. A generation ago, after World War I, the Senate rejected the League of Nations and would not even consider adhering to the World Court. When the Senate voted to adhere to the court in 1926, it made five reservations, one of which forbade the court to hand down any decision affecting the United States, unless the United States consented. This was unacceptable to most of the other states adhering to the World Court.

Another attempt to placate Senate isolationists was made in 1929, with a formula for adherence that protected American sovereignty; the Senate did not find it satisfactory. In 1935 the Senate rejected a proposal to the court with four mild reservations; the proposal lacked seven votes of a two-thirds majority. The original World Court statute had an optional clause like that of the present statute. At one time 45 states had subscribed to it. The United States now supports the doctrine that honest differences of international opinion can be resolved by an international judiciary.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, August 6

THIS is a day of high speed accomplishments, in which all manner of interests and objectives are greatly accelerated, according to the "opportunity aspect" of leading planets. Under a subtle sway, it is probable that unique or curious adventures or developments may be responsible for a definite breaking away from long static or crystallized conditions.

Eagerly but prudently grasped, the intelligence and good graces demonstrated should place the affairs on a sound, enduring and happy foundation. Rewards for good work, sound tactics and ingenuity as well as acumen bring rich rewards with personal or romantic celebrations or enjoyments.

Those whose birthday it is may look for rich and solid rewards for merit, for work well done and obligations or responsibilities faithfully met, with grace, justice and fine sense of duty to self and others. The mentality as well as the heart and emotional nature are keyed to fine performance in this direction and should rise to enduring and long-range heights of happiness, appreciation and solidarity.

There may be subtle or spiritual aspirations or undercurrents as basis for this, with the assurance of commensurate realizations and joys. Home, social and affectional felicity are about to materialize.

A child born on this day is blessed with exceptional versatility and talents. Its soundness and depth of character should bring far-reaching and enduring happiness.

The Only Sure Way To End It

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

"Atomic" Headache Known As Migraine

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE headache which comes with an attack of migraine is the atomic bomb of all headaches. According to those who suffer from it, the pain is penetrating and of such intensity that even the slightest sound or faintest beam of light brings it to an unbearable pitch.

Though as a rule the pain is only on one side of the head, the sickness, of which headache is the chief symptom, is an all-over affair.

The headache may come unannounced, but often it is preceded and ushered in by disturbances of the eyesight which range from simple blurring to the appearance of balls of light and zigzag lines in technicolor.

Other Symptoms

Other preliminary symptoms are dizziness and confusion of speech in some instances. The headache itself is often accompanied by sickness to the stomach and vomiting.

The exact cause of migraine has not as yet been determined, nor has any sure method of prevention been discovered. However, when an attack occurs, there are measures which often are successful in relieving the pain in many of the cases.

These consist in the use of drugs which relieve pain. Rest and quiet, too, are important if the symptoms are severe.

The drug which apparently has been found most successful in relieving the attacks in large numbers of patients is one known as ergotamine tartrate. In about nine out of ten patients the injection under the skin or into a muscle of this preparation will either lessen the severity of the attack to a great extent, or get rid of it altogether.

It usually acts within a period of 30 minutes to an hour. The physician will decide what dose of the preparation should be employed. It also can be taken by mouth, but it is much less successful when used in this way and seems to give relief in only about one-half of the cases.

It would appear that when enough ergotamine tartrate is given to relieve the headache, it may cause sickness to the stomach, vomiting, and pains in the muscles. However, the vomiting may be prevented at times by giving an injection under the skin of atropine sulfate along with the ergotamine.

The preparation should not be used in patients who have heart or kidney disease or during pregnancy. It also is not advisable to give it more than once during the day nor more than twice a week.

There are a number of pain-relieving substances such as the salicylates which also can be used. Bromides, too, are employed. With the proper use of these preparations the condition may be relieved.

Of course, in all cases of migraine, a careful study is made by the physician to determine, if possible, what things may be contributing to it and these should be eliminated.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 233 E. 45th st., New York City.

Terminal Pay Handout

The government is going to distribute at least three billion dollars among enlisted men who didn't get to draw terminal pay when discharged from military service. Officers already had drawn it.

This discrimination made every enlisted man boil and feel sick inside over the caste system that threatened to make a mockery of the civilian army principle in World War II. It also made an ideal talking point for congressmen who wanted to get on the good side of their newest war veteran constituents before election day. The congressmen had the privilege of seeming to right a wrong by voting to give enlisted men what officers already had obtained. There wasn't a chance to stop the terminal pay handout this year; it was saved, may even have been rigged, to cage votes.

But not all the beneficiaries are willing to trade votes for a handout. Some of them are thinking more of the squandering of public funds than of their own pockets. Some are thinking, moreover, that two wrongs do not make a right. If the terminal pay handout to officers had not occurred, enlisted men would have had no complaint. In that event, Congress would have had no chance to cage votes with public money. In that event, the government wouldn't be committed to pump more billions of cheapened currency into the inflation balloon, and the public wouldn't be committed to pay off a three billion dollar net addition to the national deficit. The principle involved in the handout was widely ignored, which is what happens to principles under the rule of git-while-the-gittin's good.

Doubtful Lawmaking

The close of legislative sessions in the United States is something we do badly. What happens in Washington on these occasions may not be quite as shocking as what happens in state legislatures, but it isn't much better.

Closing rushes which destroy the deliberation that is the saving grace of government by law are doubtful lawmaking and terrible dramas. The latter aspect is too important to be slighted. Congress retains the people's confidence to the extent that it satisfies their requirements for its collective behavior. The surest way to destroy representative democracy, as its enemies well know, is to destroy the atmosphere of dignity that enables it to exercise authority.

The atmosphere of the last few hours of a legislative session—even the last few weeks—is anything but dignified. It is as if the play had been written with a weak closing scene, because the playwright could think of no way to wind up his plot. The audience goes away, remembering not what was good, but engrossed in discussion of what was bad.

Perhaps Senator LaFollette, who is full of good ideas about improving the legislative branch and thereby strengthening freedom, might consider the addition of a first-rate playwright to the congressional staff, to bring legislative sessions to a clean-cut climax.

You Can Bet On It

Washington watchers are reporting that the next major effect of the Truman administration to raise a political talking point will be a campaign to continue wartime taxation rates.

The argument will be that high tax rates are essential, to hold down inflation. There will be a great deal of talk about balancing the budget and paying off some of the national debt.

The rebuttal which will be thrown at those who say wartime taxation is too high for peacetime will be, of course, that this point of view reflects the narrow selfishness of persons greedy for money.

There will be in the national course of events a revival of the New Deal rallying cries about princes of privilege, hounbons and so on. This is a preshrunk, tried-and-true political formula.

Under the cover of the diversion thus created, the test of the administration's sincerity will be its willingness to accompany wartime tax rates with wholesale slashing of its own expenditures, particularly expenditures caused by padding the public payroll.

Unless government's wartime overhead is slashed, the only possible effect of continuing wartime tax rates would be to stimulate inflation. Tax income, instead of being applied to reduction of the national debt, would be used up for salaries to non-productive government jobholders. You can bet on it.

The fact is, the federal bureaucracy is continuing its steady growth. We are appreciably closer to the New Deal goal of getting enough grateful jobholders on the public payroll to swing elections to the party in power. Only one wartime agency has been dissolved—the Office of Censorship. The way the wind is blowing was demonstrated when thousands of OPA employees hung on to their non-existent jobs during July, confident that the jobs would be voted back into existence, as they finally were—with a raise handed out to the hangers-on to reward their tenacity.

Honest Differences of Opinion

Senate approval in the closing hours of the 79th Congress of the optional clause of the World Court statute marked one of the most important decisions during the session. There were only two dissenting votes to this proposal that the United States should submit to the World Court and accept its decisions on disputes with other nations accepting the same obligation.

The Senate's overwhelming vote confirms the abandonment of isolation as a congressional standard. A generation ago, after World War I, the Senate rejected the League of Nations and would not even consider adhering to the World Court. When the Senate voted to adhere to the court in 1920, it made five reservations, one of which forbade the court to hand down any decision affecting the United States, unless the United States consented. This was unacceptable to most of the other states adhering to the World Court.

Another attempt to placate Senate isolationists was made in 1929, with a formula for adherence that protected American sovereignty; the Senate did not find it satisfactory. In 1935 the Senate rejected a proposal to the court with four mild reservations; the proposal lacked seven votes of a two-thirds majority. The original World Court statute had an optional clause like that of the present statute. At one time 45 states had subscribed to it. The United States now supports the doctrine that honest differences of international opinion can be resolved by an international judiciary.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, August 6

THIS is a day of high speed accomplishments, in which all manner of interests and objectives are greatly accelerated, according to the "opportunity aspect" of leading planets. Under a subtle sway, it is probable that unique or curious adventures or developments may be responsible for a definite breaking away from long static or crystallized conditions.

Eagerly but prudently grasped, the intelligence and good graces demonstrated should place the affairs on a sound, enduring and happy foundation. Rewards for good work, sound tactics and ingenuity as well as acumen bring rich rewards with personal or romantic celebrations or enjoyments.

Those whose birthday it is may look for rich and solid rewards for merit, for work well done and obligations or responsibilities faithfully met, with grace, justice and fine sense of duty to self and others. The mentality as well as the heart and emotional nature are keyed to fine performance in this direction and should rise to enduring and long-range heights of happiness, appreciation and solidarity.

There may be subtle or spiritual aspirations or undercurrents as basis for this, with the assurance of commensurate realizations and joys. Home, social and affectional felicity are about to materialize.

A child born on this day is blessed with exceptional versatility and talents. Its soundness and depth of character should bring far-reaching and enduring happiness.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

"Atomic" Headache Known As Migraine

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE headache which comes with an attack of migraine is the atom bomb of all headaches. According to those who suffer from it, the pain is penetrating and of such intensity that even the slightest sound or faintest beam of light rings it to an unbearable pitch.

Though as a rule the pain is only on one side of the head, the sickness, of which headache is the chief symptom, is an all-over affair. The headache may come unannounced, but often it is preceded and ushered in by disturbances of the eyesight which range from simple blurring to the appearance of balls of light and zigzag lines in technicolor.

Other preliminary symptoms are dizziness and confusion of speech in some instances. The headache itself is often accompanied by sickness to the stomach and vomiting. The exact cause of migraine has not as yet been determined, nor has any sure method of prevention been discovered. However, when an attack occurs, there are measures which often are successful in relieving the pain in many of the cases.

These consist in the use of drugs which relieve pain. Rest and quiet, too, are important if the symptoms are severe.

The drug which apparently has been found most successful in relieving the attacks in large numbers of patients is one known as ergotamine tartrate. In about nine out of ten patients the injection under the skin or into a muscle of this preparation will either lessen the severity of the attack to a great extent, or get rid of it altogether.

It usually acts within a period of 30 minutes to an hour. The physician will decide what dose of the preparation should be employed. It also can be taken by mouth, but it is much less successful when used in this way and seems to give relief in only about one-half of the cases.

It would appear that when enough ergotamine tartrate is given to relieve the headache, it may cause sickness to the stomach, vomiting, and pains in the muscles. However, the vomiting may be prevented at times by giving an injection under the skin of atropine sulfate along with the ergotamine.

The preparation should not be used in patients who have heart or kidney disease, or during pregnancy. It also is not advisable to give it more than once during the day nor more than twice a week.

There are a number of pain-relieving substances such as the salicylates which also can be used. Bromides, too, are employed. With the proper use of these preparations the condition may be relieved.

Of course, in all cases of migraine, a careful study is made by the physician to determine, if possible, what things may be contributing to it and these should be eliminated.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Betty Ellyson Is Bride Of Donald Roher Saturday

At sunset Saturday several hundred guests assembled in the First Friends church to witness the service which united in marriage Miss Betty Ellyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ellyson of Jennings ave., and Donald Roher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roher of Newgarden st. Rev. Harold Winn of Hughesville, Pa., a cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Robert Mosher, pastor of the church.

A white cross over the altar, which was banked with palms, ferns and large bouquets of white gladioli, was featured in the elaborate decorations. The lovely scene was lighted by the soft glow from white candles in four tall seven-branch candelabra, which flanked the altar. Three white candles in white holders were placed in each window, which was adorned with an arrangement of asparagus fern. Bouquets of white gladioli and ferns, tied with white ribbon, were attached to the end of each seat.

Miss Anna June Winn of Alliance played a program of nuptial music. Just before the ceremony, Miss Mary Jane Hayden of Tecumseh, Mich., sang, "Because," "God Give Me You" and "I Love You." While the couple knelt at the altar she sang "The Lord's Prayer." The strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin heralded the coming of the bride procession. Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

Bridal Procession

Robert Ellyson, brother of the bride; Gordon Satter of East Goshen, cousin of the bride; and William Forman of Washington, D.C., and Robert Alloway of New Grenada, Pa., cousins of the groom, ushered and led the procession.

Next came the bridesmaids, Miss

Economical and delicious—potato chip salmon.

When the price of beef and other meat is too high, turn to salmon or to turkey. Either is delicious and can take the place of meat in the balanced family menu.

Potato Chip Salmon

One package potato chips (5 oz.), 1 can salmon (7 oz.) or leftover boiled salmon, 1 can condensed mushroom soup (10 1/2 oz.), 1 cup milk, 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced.

Break up potato chips slightly. Flake salmon. Arrange alternate layers of potato chips and salmon in a well-greased, one-quart, heat-resistant glass loaf pan, starting and ending with potato chips.

Blend condensed mushroom soup and milk and pour over layers of potato chips and salmon. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., about 30 minutes, or until top is lightly browned. Garnish with slices of egg.

Turkey Fricassee

Have the butcher cut a turkey weighing about 16 to 18 pounds in half. Use one-half for roasting with a potato-celery stuffing. Have the other half cut into pieces, as for frying, and prepare by fricasseeing. One and one-half quarts boiling water, 1/2 turkey weighing about 8 pounds, turkey giblets and neck, wing tips, etc., one-third cup fat, 2 medium-sized onions, sliced, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon garlic salt, 1 tablespoon celery salt, 3 skinned, cut-up tomatoes, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning.

Cut giblets into small pieces and add with neck, wing tips, etc., to boiling salted water. Brown turkey pieces, which have been seasoned with salt and pepper in the fat in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven.

When the turkey has browned, remove from fat and make a sauce by adding the onions to the fat and sauteing over low heat until soft. Then add the salt, garlic salt, celery salt, tomatoes, and poultry seasoning.

Add the cooked giblets which have been chopped fine, and the stock in which they have been cooked, simmer together 15 minutes. Then add sauteed turkey.

Cover and cook over low heat about 2 hours, or until tender. If the sauce looks as if it is simmering down too far, add more water or additional stock on hand during the cooking.

Strike Losses Take Sharp Drop

Heavy diagonal line on Newschart shows the sharp drop in man-days lost through labor walkouts, from February's high of 21,500,000 to June's 3,800,000, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics figures. Although the nation has been free of major strikes in basic industries ever since June 7, 350 work stoppages, involving 150,000 workers, began during June. However, the first six months of 1946 cost the U. S. 85,500,000 man-days of idleness—over three times as much as 1937, which was highest recorded year since 1927.

In an interview with an American reporter Bogomolets said the serum stimulates the system of connective tissue, thus increasing the resistance of tissues against possible infection. (International)

Strike Losses Take Sharp Drop

Heavy diagonal line on Newschart shows the sharp drop in man-days lost through labor walkouts, from February's high of 21,500,000 to June's 3,800,000, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics figures. Although the nation has been free of major strikes in basic industries ever since June 7, 350 work stoppages, involving 150,000 workers, began during June. However, the first six months of 1946 cost the U. S. $5,500,000 man-days of idleness—over three times the toll of 1937, which was highest recorded year since 1927.

All-Star Football Game May See Mancuso In First Berth

LEETONIA STAR MAY DRAW 1ST TEAM POSITION

Talented Bear End Among Best Named To That Job In Classic

TOLEDO, Aug. 5.—Football stars of tomorrow's collegiate ranks convene here Thursday to take part in Ohio's greatest schoolboy football spectacle—the 1946 Ohio High School Football Classic.

The event, co-sponsored by Waite High school and the Ohio High School Coaches' association, will run eight days, culminating with a game between the "North" and "South" teams the night of Friday, Aug. 16, in the East Toledo stadium.

Waite takes pride in being host to one of the state's outstanding athletic endeavors, directed by the coaching staffs of two nationally known universities, Ohio State and Notre Dame.

Paul Bixler and his aids will coach the North squad while Frank Leahy and his assistants coach the South stars. The top 48 high school players from the state will take part in the coaching school and All-Star game.

A sellout crowd of 13,500 appeared certain today for the game. Upwards of 7,500 of the reserved seats are gone. Director Jack Mollenkopf reported and sideline chair seats are moving fast.

Players will check in at 10 a. m. Thursday to receive their lockers, equipment, meet their coaches, have pictures taken, and begin actual practice. Two workouts are scheduled each day with 200 coaches enrolled in the accompanying coaching school watching progress.

Pat Mancuso of Leetonia High school's 1945 edition under Coach Charlie Mether, one of the finest football ends ever produced in this area, will very probably draw a starting assignment in the special contest.

More than 90 Leetonia fans and a host of Salem fans are already signed up to witness the All-Star contest.

Mancuso, named last season as first team end on The Salem News All-County team, was selected as end on the Associated Press All-Ohio team. He was one of the few men ever to draw such an honor from the smaller Class B High school.

The gridgers will be housed at the Ft. Meigs hotel and will eat their meals at Waite's cafeteria. The cafeteria has just been secured, making it possible for coaches enrolled in the school to eat their meals with the gridgers.

The affair will have all the color of the College All-Star tilt with many of the country's big name coaches indicating they'll attend to look over the assembled talent.

A recent added attraction to the school and football officials is the Friday afternoon session with E. C. Irish, Krieger, secretary of the national intercollegiate athletic association. He will discuss changes in the collegiate and scholastic rules for 1946.

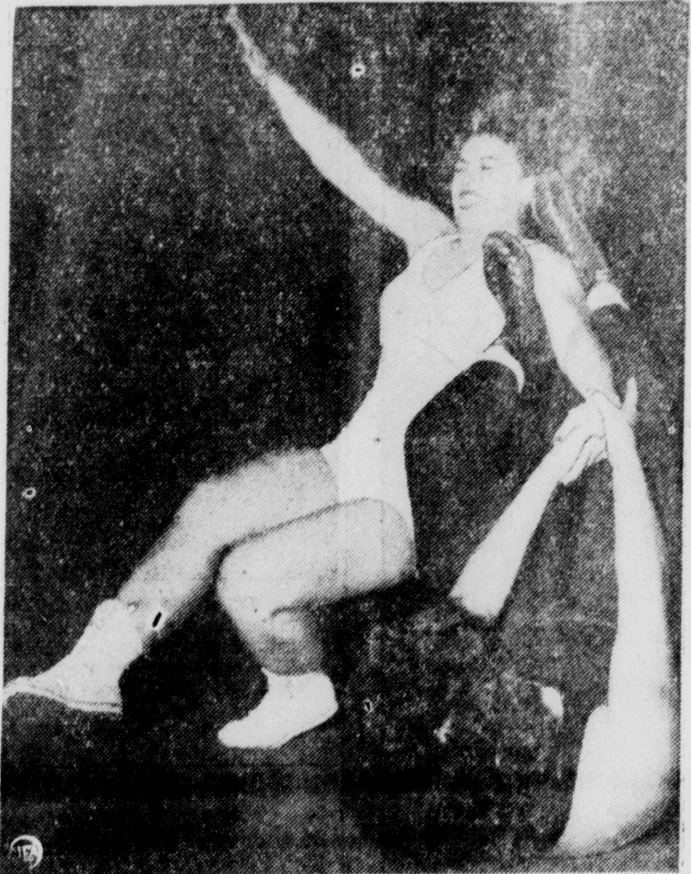

The players, all of them graduates this past June, will receive white sweaters with the red, white and blue All-Star Game insignia, as part of their award.

75,959 Watch Yankees Beat Indians; Attendance Mark Set

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major league's attendance figures soared to 12,788,000 today—nearly two million more than last year's record total—following a splendid Sunday turnout featured by Cleveland's standard-shattering 75,959 crowd of which 74,592 paid.

The throng which filled Cleveland's Municipal stadium for a glimpse of its pitching idol, Blazing Bobby Feller, almost witnessed a tragedy when the speedball king was forced to leave the field in the seventh inning of the first game of a scheduled double header with the New York Yankees when he pulled a back muscle. Feller's injury later was described as not serious and the Tribe expected him to take his regular turn next Thursday.

Feller's abrupt retirement spoiled a thrilling scoreless duel with the Yankees' Floyd (Bill) Bevens, the Cleveland ace having fanned seven to raise his strikeout total to 246 in 239 innings. With Feller out of the way, the Yankees went on to win 2-0, getting the winning marks in the ninth inning off Bob Lemon, who had taken over for Feller. The second game was halted by rain in the top of the second inning.

Another fine crowd of 49,425 saw the American League leading Red Sox knock Detroit's Hal Newhouse from the hill for the third time this season and plaster him with his fourth defeat against 20 victories as the Sox trimmed the Tigers 9-4.

Bobby Doerr, the lad who spoiled Feller's bid for a no-hitter last week, was Newhouse's chief tormentor, the brilliant Boston second baseman having the Tigers' ace for two homers, one with the bases full. In all Doerr drove in seven runs. The victory left the Red Sox 12 games in front of the Yankees.

Ted Williams, Boston's great slugging outfielder, was out of uniform for the first time this season. He remained in his hotel room with a slight temperature.

Brooklyn increased its National League lead over the second place St. Louis Cardinals to two full games by winning a close 5-4 game from the Cincinnati Reds.

Columbiana Boosters Club Set For Opening Tuesday Of '46 Membership Drive

Priming for what is expected to be one of the greatest seasons of football interest in Columbiana's history, the Columbiana Clipper Boosters club has scheduled its first fall meeting at Firestone park, Columbiana, Tuesday night.

Members of the Massillon Tiger Boosters club, one of the oldest and most active in the country, will be present at the session Tuesday to inform the Columbiana club on some of its activities in boosting the famed Tigers of Stark county.

Club President Herb Craxton will speak on "How To Be A Good Booster." A. A. Ulrich, a former Massillon club president, will also speak and several of the more active members are expected at the affair.

Houghton To Speak
Coach Bud Houghton of Massillon will talk on "Player-Coach Relations."

The Massillon group has been invited by Coach John Cabas of Columbiana to increase interest in the membership drive the Boosters club is currently conducting.

Moving pictures of several Massillon games, a Columbiana game picture and a variety of special entertainments will be featured at the close of the regular meeting.

Clipper President Charles Fisher envisions one of the largest memberships in the three-year history of the club.

Through the cooperation of the village officials, High school and the Boosters club, Columbiana will open its football season Sept. 14 under new lights at Firestone stadium.

Because of this, and with Tri-City rivalry and the intense rivalries between Columbiana and Leetonia and East Palestine, the Clippers are looking forward to an increased attendance this season.

BROWNS ALREADY SET ON KICKING MEN FOR SEASON

Goza and Saban Have Educated Toes As Pros Work Out at Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, Aug. 5.—Each afternoon after the Cleveland Browns conclude their regular practice session here, the 200 to 300 persons who watch them work out lick their chops for what has become a feature attraction—the two lads named Lou—Goza and Saban.

After the first week of practice, it is very evident that the grid Browns will be able to match any team in professional football in the placekicking department.

Goza, the 225 husky from Martins Ferry, looks as a great long distance placement artist who threatens to surpass the feats of Automatic Jack Manders and Ken Strong Saban, the ex-Indiana star, is an accomplished point after touchdown expert.

Backs Up
The second day in camp Goza started kicking from the 15 yard stripe and moved back five yards after every three kicks. From the 50 yard stripe he sent three perfect placements across the bar. At this point Paul Brown suggested he call it a day. Goza takes his placekicking very seriously and studies his techniques as assiduously as a concert violinist might practice his concertos.

P. S.: Still another good placekicker who is with the Browns, Chief Adams of the former Cleveland Rams, hasn't even put his foot to a ball yet. Adams' placekicking has been held up pending arrival of a large enough pair of shoes.

A prodigious kickoff man, Adams once booted a placement out of the Akron Rubber Bowl.

One of the hardest working men on the squad is that ex-Pittsburgh luminary, Edgar "Special Delivery" Jones, who looms as the Browns' long distance running threat.

The other evening after he must have run about eight miles in practice, Jones played nine holes of golf. When informed this Paul Brown jokingly said, "Apparently I'm not working the squad hard enough."

Bob Hiltbrand Wins Sunday Golf Tourney

Bob Hiltbrand won his second tournament in the last month Sunday as he capped the Salem Golf club match play against par, one-half handicap, tourney with a one down to par score.

Second place went to Don Richardson and Walter Deming with scores of four down to par. Don Rosenberry was third, five down to par.

Dick Dennis won the President's cup by defeating Dr. Richard Harwood 2 and 1 in the windup of the tournament which was run off during July. Art Haessly defeated Ned Massa three and two to cap the Class B tourney.

Andy McNary, club pro, announced the beginning of the club championship match play tournament, which will start today. No handicap will be used.

LEETONIA STAR MAY DRAW 1ST TEAM POSITION

Talented Bear End Among Best Named To That Job In Classic

TOLEDO, Aug. 5.—Football stars of tomorrow's collegiate ranks convene here Thursday to take part in Ohio's greatest schoolboy football spectacle—the 1946 Ohio High School Coaching School and All-Ohio Football game.

The event, co-sponsored by Waite High school and the Ohio High School Coaches' association, will run eight days, culminating with a game between the "North" and "South" teams the night of Friday, Aug. 16 in the East Toledo stadium.

Waite takes pride in being host to one of the state's outstanding athletic endeavors, directed by the coaching staffs of two nationally known universities, Ohio State and Notre Dame.

Paul Bixler and his aids will coach the North squad while Frank Leahy and his assistants groom the South stars. The top 48 high school players from the state will take part in the coaching school and All-Star game.

A sellout crowd of 13,560 appeared today for the game. Upwards of 7,500 of the reserved seats are gone. Director Jack Mollenkopf reported and sideline chair seats are moving fast.

Players will check in at 10 a. m. Thursday to receive their lockers, equipment, meet their coaches, have pictures taken, and begin actual practice. Two workouts are scheduled each day with 200 coaches enrolled in the accompanying coaching school watching progress. Letters went out to all the players two weeks ago asking that they start getting themselves into condition so they can get down to serious practicing immediately.

Pat Mancuso of Leetonia High school's 1945 edition under Coach Charlie Mether, one of the finest football ends ever produced in this area, will very probably draw a starting assignment in the special contest.

More than 90 Leetonia fans and a host of Salem fans are already signed up to witness the All-Star contest.

Mancuso, named last season as first team end on The Salem News All-County team, was selected as end on the Associated Press All-Ohio team. He was one of the few men ever to draw such an honor from the smaller Class B High school.

The gridgers will be housed at the Ft. Meigs hotel and will eat their meals at Waite's cafeteria. The cafeteria has just been secured, making it possible for coaches enrolled in the school to eat their meals with the gridgers.

The affair will have all the color of the College All-Star game with many of the country's big name coaches indicating they'll attend a look over the assembled talent. A recent addition to the coaching school and football officials is the "Friday afternoon session with E. C. Irish," Krieger, secretary of the national Intercollegiate Athletic association. He will discuss changes in the collegiate and scholastic rules for 1946.

The players, all of them graduates this past June, will receive their letters with the red, white and blue All-Star Game insignia, as art of their award.

75,959 Watch Yankees Beat Indians; Attendance Mark Set

The major league's attendance figures soared to 12,788,000 today—nearly two million more than last year's record total—following a splendid Sunday turnout featured by Cleveland's standard-shattering 75,959 crowd of which 74,592 paid.

The throng which filled Cleveland's Municipal stadium for a glimpse of its pitching idol, Blazing Bobby Feller, almost witnessed a tragedy when the speedball king was forced to leave the field in the seventh inning of the first game of a scheduled doubleheader with the New York Yankees when he pulled a back muscle. Feller's injury later was described as not serious and the Tribe expected him to take his regular turn next Thursday.

Feller's abrupt retirement spoiled a thrilling scoreless duel with the Yankees' Floyd (Bill) Bevens, the Cleveland ace having fanned seven to raise his strikeout total to 246 in 239 innings. With Feller out of the way, the Yankees went on to win 2-0, getting the winning marker in the ninth inning off Bob Lemon, who had taken over for Feller. The second game was halted by rain in the top of the second inning.

Another fine crowd of 49,425 saw the American league leading Red Sox knock Detroit's Hal Newhouse from the hill for the third time this season and plaster him with his fourth defeat against 20 victories as the Sox trimmed the Tigers 9-4.

Bobby Doerr, the lad who spoiled Feller's bid for a no-hitter last week, was Newhouse's chief tormentor, the brilliant Boston second baseman banging the Tigers' ace for two homers, one with the bases full. In all Doerr drove in seven runs, the victory left the Red Sox 12 games in front of the Yankees.

Ted Williams, Boston's great slugging outfielder, was out of uniform for the first time this season. He remained in his hotel room with a slight temperature.

Brooklyn increased its National league lead over the second place St. Louis Cardinals to two full games by winning a close 5-4 game from the Cincinnati Reds.

Columbiana Boosters Club Set For Opening Tuesday Of '46 Membership Drive

Priming for what is expected to be one of the greatest seasons of football interest in Columbiana's history, the Columbiana Clipper Boosters club has scheduled its first fall meeting at Firestone park, Columbiana, Tuesday night.

Members of the Massillon Tiger Boosters club, one of the oldest and most active in the country, will be present at the session Tuesday to inform the Columbiana club on some of its activities in boosting the famed Tigers of Stark county.

Club President Herb Craxton will speak on "How To Be A Good Booster." A. A. Ulrich, a former Massillon club president, will also speak and several of the more active members are expected at the affair.

BROWNS ALREADY SET ON KICKING MEN FOR SEASON

Goza and Saban Have Educated Toes As Pros Work Out at Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, Aug. 5.—Each afternoon after the Cleveland Browns conclude their regular practice session here, the 200 to 300 persons who watch them work out lick their chops for what has become a featured attraction—the two lads named Lou-Groza and Saban.

After the first week of practice, it is very evident that the grid Browns will be able to match any team in professional football in the placekicking department.

Goza, the 225 husky from Martins Ferry, looms as a great long distance placement artist who threatens to surpass the feats of Automatic Jack Manders and Ken Strong. Saban, the ex-Indiana star, is an accomplished point after touchdown expert.

Backs Up
The second day in camp Goza started kicking from the 15 yard stripe and moved back five yards after every three kicks. From the 50 yard stripe he sent three perfect placements across the bar. At this point Paul Brown suggested he call it a day. Goza takes his placekicking very seriously and studies his techniques as assiduously as a concert violinist might practice his concertos.

P. S.: Still another good placekicker who is with the Browns, Chet Adams, a 2-2 tie and won out over Boardman Tech Dairy 9-2 in their Saturday game at Centennial park.

Morrison and Hrvatin led the Sa-lemites with two hits while Tremba was high for Boardman with a pair. Both teams got six hits.

'Two-Ton Tony' Struggles With Battling Octopus

Tony Galento, erstwhile heavyweight boxer now touring the Northwest as a wrestling referee, met his master in the Seattle, Wash., aquarium, where he tangled with an eight-gloved battling octopus. Sufficiently recovered from the nightmare of flying brine and flailing gloves, 274-pound "Two-Ton Tony" conceded that the 500-gallon match was even worse than his encounter with Joe Louis, but demanded a rematch nevertheless.

TEXACOS WIN OVER STRUTHERS IN NINTH

Salem's Texacos edged the Struthers A. C. in a heavy-hitting tilt at Centennial park Sunday by the score of 8-7, as Wayne "Kirby" Laughlin paced the locals with a pair of triples and a single.

Both teams collected 11 hits and the Salem side won the game in the last of the ninth when they pushed across three runs to overcome a two run lead by the visitors.

Leading hitters for the losing A. C. were W. Turner, R. Turner and Wayne Hahn, each with two singles. Weisbacker and Michaels each got three hits for Canton.

BONDED DEBT

George W. Floto frankly told the Steubenville city council in April. City officials throughout the state echo those sentiments in their own words.

Got By During War
During the war, when lack of manpower and materials made it easy for cities to decide not to repair and maintain their civic plants, practically all cities were able to reduce their bonded indebtedness.

But, several still are plenty in the red.
A classic example is Portsmouth where the annual operating budget calls for about $357,000 in round figures. Its bonded indebtedness, however, is written in even rounder figures—$3,363,950.
